Divorces in Wisconsin are increasing apparently at a rapid rate. It is estimated authoritatively that one out of every eleven marriages in this state results in a divorce. This estimate is based on divorce statistics compiled by Dr. J. C. Harper, Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin state board of health and vital statistics, for the report of the board.

The principal cause of divorce is cruelty. That was given as the cause in 48.2 per cent of the divorces granted during the last year, for which statistics are available. Divorces were given in 33.6 per cent of the cases, drunkenness in 4.3 per cent, neglect to provide maintenance in 4.4 per cent, and unfaithfulness in 2.6 per cent. During the year in question the wife was the complainant in about four out of five cases.

Length of the marriage relationship apparently increased instead of decreased. Marital discord in these cases, as sixty divorces were granted after a period of thirty years of married life while only thirty-six were granted during the first year of married life. The period between the first and fourth years of married life, seems, however, to be the most turbulent, as one-fifth of the divorces granted in the year in question were to couples who had reached that stage of their relationship.

Two-thirds of the complainants were native and one-third foreign born. In 43 per cent of the cases the parties were without children.

In his compilation of "Divorce Statistics" Dr. Harper says in part: "Prior to Oct. 1, 1907, the data on which the uniform law for the collection of vital statistics became operative, no statistics of divorce had ever been collected in Wisconsin. The federal census bureau reports that the actual number of divorces in Wisconsin increased from 765 per year in 1887 to 1,458 per year in 1906. The number of divorces per 1,000 marriages for each year has increased from fifty-one in 1892 to ninety-one in 1905.

"For the twelve months preceding Oct. 1, 1908, 35.3 divorces were granted for each 1,000 marriages solemnized during that period of time. The rate is highest in Marinette county where there were 214 divorces for each 1,000 marriages. No divorces were reported from Buffalo, Dunn, Rusk, Iron, Lafayette, Lincoln, Oconto, Oneida, or Shawano counties.

"Only 152 of the total cases for divorce during this period of time were contested, and in many of these cases a cross bill for divorce was filed. In 602 cases out of a total of 1,476 alimony was asked and in 458 cases alimony in some form was granted."

The trustees of the Northwest Collegiate Institute have just announced that they have engaged Professor Arthur Oakley, of Madison, Wisconsin, as principal of this institution. Mr. Oakley is a graduate of Wisconsin State University, and has been teaching for ten years in the state schools with great acceptance and success.

This institution is to be congratulated in having secured a man so well qualified for the position, and made so by the best training, actual experience, as well as having native ability. Mr. Oakley, the founder and president of the institution, is much encouraged with recent developments. While all his hopes for the institution have not yet been realized, progress is being made. The splendid 500-acre farm on which the school is located is in good condition and being well managed under a competent man assisted by the students.

This year the institution for the first time has an experienced gardener who takes special care of that department. From the gardening, regular farming, dairying and poultry a large revenue is possible, and it is expected that in time the institution will become self sustaining as the respective departments are further developed. This school offers the regular preparatory courses and is accredited to some of our strongest colleges. It makes much of the self help department which opens up the way for young people of limited means, and those who for various reasons were unable to attend school at usual age. In September 1906 the school was opened, already it has graduated three classes. A large increase in attendance is expected next year. All worthy young people, irrespective of creed or class, are welcome—all have an equal chance. The nominal expense for the school year, including room, board and tuition, is only $125.00; this can be paid in cash, or work, or a portion in cash and the rest in work. The purpose of this institution is to help young people to help themselves, and make possible a thorough education for every young person who desires to at the same time surrounding them by the very best influence. It has for its friends and supporters some of the best people in the country and the number of such will increase as the institution becomes more widely known.

It is considered that this institution does, and will more largely as it develops, fill a unique place in the Great Northwest. Many nationalities have already been represented among those enrolled, as well as several states in the Union. The location is ideal, and possibility for growth and doing good boundless.

THE CONVENTION AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, July 12.—Late indications were that the Wisconsin Democratic state convention at the Allamuchy theater would nominate only one candidate for United States senator as well as for each of the state offices, and that the candidate for senator would be a dark horse. The opposition to J. A. Aylward for senator is still growing, and at last accounts no decision had been reached regarding the man upon whom to confer the honor. Burt Williams of Ashland, Judge Paul D. Carpenter of Milwaukee and Congressman C. H. Weiss were being considered Tuesday morning, but it was expected that developments during the day would eliminate some of these.

The state ticket seems to have narrowed down to the following: Governor—A. J. Schmitz, Milwaukee.

Lieutenant Governor—E. L. L.

Foss Attacks Tariff Law

Representative Eugene M. Foss, the newly elected Democratic representative from Menasha, a former Republican and a leading manufacturer, signalled his beginning of active participation in the house with an attack upon the Payne-Aldrich tariff.

Mr. Foss denounced the Republican policy of protection as an unmitigated evil, saying the Republican leaders declared the recent revision of the tariff to be a deliberate backslide from start to finish.

"The people are indeed demanding protection," said Mr. Foss, "but the protection they are demanding is protection from the Payne-Aldrich tariff."

The speaker announced himself as favoring the creation of a tariff commission, but he wanted the commission composed of non-partisan men whose report could be made direct to Congress rather than to the president.

Referring to the provision in the pending sundry civil appropriation bill for an appropriation of $50,000 for a tariff commission to report to the president he said:

"It cannot be denied that the people have, rightly or wrongly, come to regard this whole tariff scheme as planned in the last national campaign, and as promulgated in their platform, and as finally embodied in the special tariff session of Congress."

No Fees for Police.

Under provisions of the new law passed at the last session of the legislature creating a fire and police commission in the cities of the fourth class the police officials of such cities will hereafter be compelled to turn all fees collected from lawbreakers into the city treasury. The law adopted sections of the 1899 law which previously affected only cities of the second and third class. Under this law the police will not get any more fees, their salaries alone being the only compensation given them. They may, however, retain rewards when given them.

This provision will necessitate the placing of warrants in other hands than that of the city police, as it cannot be expected that the chief of police would go after a criminal wanted here and stand the expense out of his own pocket. The new law went into effect on July first.

Fishermen who do not want to get in the clutches of the vigilant game wardens should be a little cautious about measuring the size of the black bass which they take in Wisconsin. The law distinctly states that all fish hooked under ten inches in length must be returned unharmed to the water from whence taken. Now how long is ten inches? This is the question and the law states that the fish is to be measured not by its entire length, that is from the tip of the nose to the tail, but from the tip of the nose to the end of the body where the tail begins. It is said that a number of arrests have been made and persons convicted when they thought they were within their rights in holding fish which measured ten inches head and tail included. Even snubfish must be seven inches or more long, the smaller to be returned same as bass. Every fisherman should add a measuring stick to his kit. —Ex.

SOME PEOPLE ARE NEVER SATISFIED

The inhabitants of Mosinee have recently sent a petition to the St. Paul Ry. Co. asking that another operator be put on duty there so that passengers taking the morning train will not have to stand out of doors without the knowledge of when the train will be along.

Now that just shows how hard it is to please some people. Here the railroad company runs their trains right by Mosinee every day and anybody who has the price can go right down to the depot and step aboard and go anywhere they want to, and still they are kicking because there is no telegraph operator. (Don't answer hard questions about when the train is going to be in, and how far it is to the next station, and what time the train gets to Wausau and other things of that kind. Next thing we hear of they will want the cars scrubbed out every spring, pushed across in the depot, and free chewing gum for the ladies and a pear box for the men. The more you do for some people the more they want done. No wonder the down trodden railway companies have a hard time to make a living.

Uncle Sam's Savings Bank System

A silver 10 cent piece will be all that you will need to start a savings account with Uncle Sam when the new postal savings banks are installed throughout the country. The plan is this:

Uncle Sam wants to encourage thrift among persons earning small wages. He wants the child, as well as the grown-up, to learn to save. Many persons spend their pennies. The postal bank will receive only regular deposits of $1.

To encourage the savings of the uneducated pennies, however, the postal savings bank will issue a card representing 10 cents. Then "postal savings stamps" will be sold at 2 cents each. When the card is filled with stamps it will be accepted at the postal savings bank as a $1 deposit and placed to the account of the depositor.

Some of the features of the postal savings bank law are:

Children over 10 years old may open accounts.

Married women may have accounts in their own names and free from control or interference from their husbands.

No one will be allowed to deposit more than $100 in any one calendar month.

The balance to the credit of any person shall never exceed $500, exclusive of accumulated interest.

Interest of 2 per cent per annum will be paid on all deposits, but no interest will be allowed on fractions of $1.

Arrangements for putting the new law into effect will be made as soon as possible but according to a statement of Postmaster General Hitchcock it will be several months before the depositors can be established and ready for operation.

"Why is tuberculosis, or consumption, singled out as the object of a world wide crusade for its control, prevention and cure, when pneumonia for example is almost as prevalent and occasionally more so?"

The Wisconsin Anti Tuberculosis association's headquarters in Milwaukee is frequently called upon to answer this and similar inquiries relative to the reasons for the expenditure of fund and energy to control this disease.

"Consumption is a disease which can be wiped out by the cooperation of the sick and the well, and not otherwise," says Dr. H. E. Dearholt, the executive secretary. "For this reason it must be made a public affair. There is no other disease which so habitually cuts down its victims in the best years of their life. It clutches in its relentless grasp the young man just established in trade or profession; the young mother in her family; the father upon whose working ability the wife and family depend; the man and woman when they are worth most to the world. It's good business policy to stop this. Again, tuberculosis is a communicable disease, and it is the one great contagious disease which lasts for years and in which the victim, able to wander about, may give the disease to thousands. The course of pneumonia is run in a few days, during which infection may be easily guarded against."

It is pointed out that the great anti tuberculosis movement has been of incalculable value in exciting effort for the prevention of other diseases and conditions inimical to health. Already there is a marked uplift in the living and working conditions of the masses. There never has been in history a movement that has taught and stimulated right living as has this crusade.

Mr. Leuschen has had considerable experience as a newspaper writer and will give the citizens of that enterprising city a first class paper.

Fishermen who do not want to get in the clutches of the vigilant game wardens should be a little cautious about measuring the size of the black bass which they take in Wisconsin. The law distinctly states that all fish hooked under ten inches in length must be returned unharmed to the water from whence taken. Now how long is ten inches? This is the question and the law states that the fish is to be measured not by its entire length, that is from the tip of the nose to the tail, but from the tip of the nose to the end of the body where the tail begins. It is said that a number of arrests have been made and persons convicted when they thought they were within their rights in holding fish which measured ten inches head and tail included. Even snubfish must be seven inches or more long, the smaller to be returned same as bass. Every fisherman should add a measuring stick to his kit. —Ex.

Several persons about the city who have been using water for sprinkling at times when they were not supposed to, have had their water supply cut off, and the consequence is that they are sadder but wiser men. It pays to be good when water is as scarce as it is now.

The city of Stevens Point has issued $16,000 worth of bonds, and when these are disposed of the money will be used in improving the streets. The city has some very nicely paved streets, but all of the roads outside of the city are about as bad as can be found anywhere.

Attorney Chas. E. Briere left on Monday for Detroit, Mich., where he will attend the National convention of Elks. He will go to Milwaukee and make the trip with the delegation from that city, who will have a hard with them and go in style. Mr. Briere will also visit Niagara Falls before his return.

Frank Leuschen, a former teacher in the Wood county schools, and a candidate for county clerk on the democratic ticket two years ago, has purchased the Marathon City Times. No Fees for Police.

Under provisions of the new law passed at the last session of the legislature creating a fire and police commission in the cities of the fourth class the police officials of such cities will hereafter be compelled to turn all fees collected from lawbreakers into the city treasury. The law adopted sections of the 1893 law which previously affected only cities of the second and third class. Under this law the police will not get any more fees, their salaries alone being the only compensation given them. They may, however, retain rewards when given them.

This provision will necessitate the placing of warrants in other hands than that of the city police, as it cannot be expected that the chief of police would go after a criminal wanted here and stand the expense out of his own pocket. The new law went into effect on July first.

Mr. Huntington is of the opinion that the engine should have a new boiler, but does not advise making any change just at present. The present boiler has been in use 20 years or more, and might give out any moment if subjected to the severe strain that would be necessary in case of a large fire.

Fishermen who do not want to get in the clutches of the vigilant game warden should be a little cautious about measuring the size of the black bass which they take in Wisconsin.

The law distinctly states that all fish hooked under ten inches in length must be returned unharmed to the water from whence taken. Now how long is ten inches? This is the question and the answer is that the fish is to be measured not by its entire length, but from the tip of the nose to the end of the body where the tail begins. It is said that a number of arrests have been made and persons convicted when they thought they were within their rights in holding fish, which measured ten inches head and tail included. Even mudfish must be seven inches or more long, the smaller to be returned same as bass. Every fisherman should add a measuring stick to his kit. —Ex.

SOME PEOPLE ARE NEVER SATISFIED

The inhabitants of Mosinee have recently sent a petition to the St. Paul Ry. Co. asking that another operator be put on duty there so that passengers taking the morning train will not have to stand out of doors without the knowledge of when the train will be along.

Now that just shows how hard it is to please some people. Here the railroad company runs their trains right by Mosinee every day and anybody who has the price can go right down to the depot and step aboard and go anywhere they want to, and still they are kicking because there is no telegraph operator there to answer fool questions about when the train is going to be in, and how far it is to the next station, and what time it is to Chicago, and what time the train gets to Wausau and other things of that kind. Next thing you hear of they will want the cars scrubbed out every spring, plush seats in the depot, and free chewing gum for the ladies and a poor box for the men. The more you do for some people the more they want done. No wonder the down-trodden railway companies have a hard time to make a living.

Uncle Sam's Savings Bank System

A silver 10 cent piece will be all that you will need to start a savings account with Uncle Sam when the new postal savings banks are installed throughout the country. The plan is this:

Uncle Sam wants to encourage thrifty among persons earning small wages. He wants the child, as well as the grown-up, to learn to save. Many persons spend their pennies.

The postal bank will receive only regular deposits of $1.

To encourage the savings of the squandered pennies, however, the postal savings bank will issue a card representing 10 cents. Then "postal savings stamps" will be sold at 2 cents each. When the card is filled with stamps it will be accepted at the postal savings bank as a $1 deposit and placed to the account of the depositor.

Some of the features of the postal savings bank law are:

Children over 10 years old may open accounts.

Married women may have accounts in their own names and free from control or interference from their husbands.

No one will be allowed to deposit more than $100 in any one calendar month.

The balance to the credit of any person shall never exceed $500, exclusive of accumulated interest.

Interest of 3 per cent per annum will be paid on all deposits, but no interest will be allowed on fractions of $1.

Arrangements for putting the new law into effect will be made as soon as possible but according to a statement of Postmaster General Hitchcock it will be several months before the depositories can be established and ready for operation.

"Why is tuberculosis, or consumption, singled out as the object of a world wide crusade for its control, prevention and cure, when pneumonia for example is almost as prevalent and occasionally more so?"

The Wisconsin Anti Tuberculosis association's headquarters in Milwaukee is frequently called upon to answer this and similar inquiries relative to the reasons for the expenditure of fund and energy to control this disease.

"Consumption is a disease which can be wiped out by the cooperation of the sick and the well, and not of the sick and the well, and not otherwise," says Dr. H. E. Dearholt, the executive secretary. "For this reason it must be made a public affair. There is no other disease which so habitually cuts down its victims in the best years of their life. It clutches in its relentless grasp the young man just established in trade or profession; the young mother in her family; the father upon whose working ability the wife and family depend; the man and woman when they are worth most to the world. It's good business policy to stop this disease, and it is the one great contagious disease which lasts for years and in which the victim, able to wander about, may give the disease to thousands. The course of pneumonia is run in a few days, during which infection may be easily guarded against."

It is pointed out that the great anti tuberculosis movement has been of incalculable value in exciting effort for the prevention of other diseases and conditions inimical to health. Already there is a marked uplift in the living and working conditions of the masses. There never has been in history a movement that has taught and stimulated right living as has this crusade.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS.

The expected has happened. A bill for old-age pensions has been introduced in the house of representatives. The introducer is William Baughman, of Illinois, Pa., former coal miner, former international secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, who now makes a living for his ten children on a farm, when he is not lucky enough to be drawing a representative's salary, says Brooklyn Eagle. The provisions of the bill give $120 a year to each man or woman over the age of sixty-five who has neither property worth $1,000 nor an income of over $240 a year. Modesty is to be expected of an entering wedge. But William's measure is too modest by half. This is a rich country. How can it expect a person over sixty-five years old to live comfortably on $120 a year? If the old-age pension in each case were fixed at, say $5,000 a year, more money would be put in circulation and anyone would have a motive for seeking longevity. Nobody would be silly enough to nurse thift or to pursue industry any further than would be needed to keep life going till the age of sixty-five should be reached. For that matter, why not make the age forty? This is an era of humanitarian experimentation.

The mosquito season is at hand, and New Jersey, where the objectionable insect most abounds, is moving in the matter of destroying the pest. Insects are one of the evils in which energetic and organized action has been taken. Infested sections are to be killed and ditched, and it is believed that by the methods employed millions of humans will be killed and thus grave consequences will be averted. It has been shown that combined and systematic effort, including the most scientific means of fighting the evil, can be very effective, and New Jersey, which has been a great sufferer from the ravages of the mosquito, may add vastly to health and comfort by general war aimed at exterminating the mosquito.

Is Cuba to furnish the means of enlarging the forests and producing paper at a moderate cost? It is announced from that island that experiments in manufacturing paper from sugar-cane fiber have proved entirely successful, and that the product can be turned out at much less cost than from wood pulp. Of course the cane is what is left after the sugar has been extracted and thus another by-product comes into play. It has also been asserted that American cottons can be converted into paper. As there is practically an unlimited supply of such material, making good the assertion should be a very important step in conservation.

Crossing the English channel in an airship seems to have become almost a habit. Louis Blériot led the way nearly a year ago and was followed by Jacques de Lesseps May 21 last. Both those aviators were Frenchmen, and they flew from France to England. Now Charles Stewart Smith, an Englishman, has made the trip from England to France and back again without a stop, and therefore holds the record in this particular line of achievement. And he did the trick in a Wright aeroplane, so America gets at least part of the credit.

Dispatches from Seattle report an almost unprecedented rush to the gold fields of Alaska. This does not look as though there were general acceptance of that story that a Seranton alchemist has discovered a method of transmuting base materials into gold and silver, which, if actually done, would inevitably minimize the value of the yellow and white metals. In short, the modern prospector or speculator has no use for the philosopher's stone, so eagerly sought by the ancients.

The movement for the devising of sanitary rules for all passenger trains and railroad stations is not aimed at the carrying operations, because it originated among them, and was suggested by Dr. W. A. Applegate, chief surgeon of the Southern railway. The railroads have always been leaders in promoting the safety and comfort of the traveling public, and they will co-operate earnestly with the United States public health and marine hospital service in combating germ diseases.

How will coming generations get their physical exercise in outdoor recreations? The motorcycle has played hob with the bicycle, and the power boat has the sailing boat and the oarsmen on the run. A tiny motor now pushes the light Indian canoe over the shallow lakes and streams, and for some the paddle is too strenuous or too slow. Shall we next see the pedestrian tack a motor in his pocket and get over the ground without the labor of moving his feet?

Down in Connecticut recently a woman died because a fortune had been left to her. People who are waiting for rich uncles to pass away will agree that her action was wholly unjustifiable.

A Boston gentleman has succeeded in breeding a blue rabbit. In other towns, certain men have been able to produce polka-dotted ones, without having a single Burbank in their sieves.

A southern paper propounds the question, "Was Napoleon a lover or a liar?" Is there anything in history or nature to prevent him from having been both?

BAN ON FIGHT FILMS

MOVEMENT AGAINST THEIR EXHIBITION IS NOW WORLD-WIDE.

MANY CITIES TAKE ACTION

Pictures of Battle Between Johnson and Jefferson Declared to Be Demoralizing and Likely to Cause Race Troubles.

New York—A movement is on foot which promises to become world-wide in its scope, to prevent the exhibition of the Jefferson-Johnson prize fight pictures. The United Societies of the Christian Endeavor, with 4,000,000 members and the International Association of Police Chiefs are the leaders of the crusade.

The Christian Endeavor society, through its London headquarters, telegraphed to the governor of every state in the Union Wednesday, asking that the pictures be banned on the ground that they represent an illegal fight, and that their exhibition would be a bad influence on the actual fight. Secretary William Shaw declared that he had wired President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Hughes, asking them to use their influence to prevent the pictures from being exhibited.

The American Vitaphone company, which owns the fight films, is believed to have spent $250,000 in purchasing the exclusive rights and in taking the pictures. Jefferson was paid $35,000, while Johnson got $50,000. Richard and Gleason each got one-sixth. In addition the moving picture company spent a small fortune sending a score of expert operators to Reno and in other incidental expenses. The picture people expected to take in $1,000,000 during the first month the pictures were on exhibition.

Among the larger cities that have already put the stamp of disapproval on the pictures are: Washington, Virginia (entire state), Fort Worth, Tex.; Baltimore, Boston, Lincoln, Neb.; Louisville, Lexington, Ky.; Cincinnati, Atlanta, Harrisburg, Pa.; New Orleans, Savannah, and the whole state of Iowa.

In many southern cities the agitation against the fight pictures is increasing, due to the fact that a negro was the victor. The crusade has extended abroad. In Johannesburg, South Africa, the biograph halls themselves have prohibited the pictures.

RECLAMATION ACT IS VALID

Appellate Court Hands Down Far-reaching Decision Concerning Arid Lands.

San Francisco—A far-reaching decision, directly affecting the $20,000,000 appropriation recently made by congress and the reclamation service, wherein the United States court of appeals sustains the circuit court of Idaho's contention that the reclamation act is constitutional, was rendered here Tuesday.

The decision establishes the right of the secretary of the interior to acquire by condemnation or otherwise lands as water in the furtherance of any reclamation project.

The importance to the west lies in the fact that already the government has expended millions of dollars in the work of reclaiming the arid lands of the west, and congress had a short time ago appropriated $20,000,000 for the work to be done this year.

The decision of the court of appeals also extends to the right of the government to take over any needed private water rights in carrying out the provisions of the act.

This makes the irrigation projects of the west authorized by law and will permit a resumption of work in many sections without delay.

HAS PRAISE FOR POINDEXTER

CONGRESSMAN HAS CONFERENCE WITH ROOSEVELT.

"Insurgent" Is Candidate for United States Senator From State of Washington.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—One of Colonel Roosevelt's important conferences was held with Representative Poindexter, an insurgent from the state of Washington.

It can be stated that Congressman Poindexter left Sagamore Hill with strong assurance that he will have the support of Colonel Roosevelt in his campaign fight for the United States senatorship.

Mr. Poindexter, after his visit with Colonel Roosevelt, said: "He is the same old president. The man I have worked with and loved, and I am still going to work with. He is just the same as ever. He is a wonderful leader, and he is still the leader. I am tremendously pleased with my talk with him. He must tell the details, if he wishes, of our conversation. Colonel Roosevelt and I and my associates have always worked together, and he assured me that we will continue to go together."

Congressman Poindexter represents the district from which Secretary Hallinger comes.

In speaking of the visit of Mr. Poindexter, Mr. Roosevelt said: "Representative Poindexter and I went over together the political situation in the northwest. He assured me that he is in hearty sympathy with my conservation policies. Mr. Poindexter is a candidate for the position of United States senator and he is politically opposed to the wing of the party which I support by Secretary Hallinger. Mr. Poindexter is a fine type of a man."

Washington—Secretary Hallinger of the interior department, who returned to Washington from Beverly Wednesday, referred to a report from Oyster Bay that former President Roosevelt had espoused the cause of Representative Poindexter as a candidate for the senate to succeed Senator Piles of Washington, and said:

"If the published report is true Mr. Roosevelt has been led astray by the deception of people who claim to be his friends." He added that he had taken no active part in the politics of Washington for a long time and denied that he had led the party in that state or any wing of it.

"I do not consider Mr. Poindexter a Republican," he continued, "but a rank Socialist or, rather, if he is not one he will be one soon."

Beverly, Mass.—After a long conference with President Taft here Tuesday Secretary Richard A. Hallinger of the interior department made the following announcement: that he will not resign from the cabinet, no matter what the verdict of the congressional investigating committee may be.

Secretary Hallinger announced that the policy toward public domain would retain the spirit of conservation, but would also encourage the privilege of development. When some one referred to it "and the Taft-Bullinger policy," he said:

"You may call it what you like, but I will tell you one thing—it will follow the line of the law."

Barlor in the day, before seeing Mr. Taft, Mr. Hallinger said that he "was not a quitter," but would not discuss a resignation. After his talk with the president, Mr. Hallinger announced positively that he would not quit.

THE TROUBLES OF A FISHERMAN

INDICTED AS JURY TAMPERER

CHICAGO GROCER CHARGED WITH TRYING TO CORRUPT.

Chicago—A fresh sensation in connection with the legislative bribery scandal arose when State's Attorney Wayman Wednesday announced that an indictment had been voted charging John A. Maloy, a grocer, with attempting to corrupt Oscar T. Morford, a juror in the recent trial of Louis O'Neill Browne.

Morford, his wife and his father, Thorough Morford, testified before the grand jury. Mrs. Morford testified that shortly after the Browne jury had been sworn, she went to Maloy's grocery within the neighborhood in which the Morfords live. Maloy, she said, gave her two bags, which he asked her to give to her husband, who had been accepted on the jury. Maloy asked her to use her influence to persuade her husband to vote for the acquittal of Browne, holding out as a reward of doing so that Morford would not have to work for a railroad any more as he would get a lump of money.

By agreement between counsel the trial of the case of Lee O'Neill Browne, charged with bribing Representative Charles A. White to vote for William Lorimer for United States senator, was continued to July 20.

DEATH IN TORNADO'S PATH

Hits Circus and Shatters Tent, Killing One—Levels Crops—Wires Are Down.

Watertown, S. D.—One dead and a score injured, the main tent and menagerie tent of Ringling's circus in ruins and two horses killed is the result of a tornado here.

The spectators had barely left the tent when the first blast ripped the canvas into ribbons. The canvas caught fire from the lamps and was carried blazing into the air by the gale.

It was the heaviest hailstorm ever witnessed in the Red river valley. It extended over the northern part of Grand Forks county and across Polk county, Minnesota.

In some sections the crops were pounded down to the ground and leaves were stripped from the trees. Details are meager, as all wires are down west.

Reports received from Breckenridge, Minn., Grand Forks, N. D., Sioux Falls and Brookings, in South Dakota, tell of bad storms and much damage inside the storm belt, but details are lacking.

CHEERS GREET JACK

"ARTHA" GRINS WITH DELIGHT

Filling of Suit to Recover Diamond Ring Marks Greatest Welcome Ever Accorded to a Colored Man.

Chicago—A welcome such as no other colored man of modern times has received was accorded Jack Johnson when he returned to his home here Thursday.

So long as there was the crush of humanity which poured from all quarters that the combined efforts of a squad of policemen put there for the purpose failed to keep back the press. Clubs were drawn and used freely by the bluecoats, but, undaunted, the throng pressed on, leading the air with their cheer. Hats were waved and when they came down their owners sang songs and cheered forward and away from them.

For a space of fully five minutes the champion was so hemmed in by the mob that he could not move in any direction.

Then a band of policemen formed a flying wedge, and plunged down the platform with the colored pugilist among them, but at the end of the platform near the station steps appeared a line of "fans" and their companions and another effort of delay ensued. And all the time the shouting grew wilder and wilder.

Suddenly above the heads of the throng was seen the head and shoulders of a big colored man. It was Jack Johnson and he was being carried on the shoulders of the men of his race. "Up the steps they ran with him and handing him into an auto, which stood at the curb. The multitude fell back and the big fellow stood up in his car, smiled and waved his hand. There was no doubt of it. Jack Johnson was "licked to death."

Pursued by light fans and admirers in automobiles, his machine was driven rapidly to his home in Winnetka avenue. Along the thoroughfare crowds wildly cheered. In front of his mother's home about 6,000 persons packed the street, and it took the champion nearly fifteen minutes to get from the curb into the house. His mother was first to greet him as he entered.

Hardly had the black champion reached his home before George W. Little, his former manager, filed a suit against him for the recovery of a diamond ring, said to be worth $12,000, which Johnson is wearing.

TACT TO TAKE YACHT CRUISE

President Will Extend Vacation Ten Days and Make Trip Along Maine Coast.

Beverly, Mass.—President Taft decided Thursday that at the end of his ten days' vacation he will make a ten days' cruise in the naval yacht Mayflower for the purpose of reaching up the coast will start on July 18, on which date, during the uniform of commander-in-chief of the navy, which, by the way, is the same as that of commander-in-chief of the army and president. Mr. Taft, accompanied by his family, will board the Mayflower and weigh anchor for Bar Harbor and other summer ports of call on the Maine coast.

Bar Harbor will be the base from which short trips will be made to nearby points. The party will sleep on board the yacht at night, but will probably go ashore at various places where the golfing looks good.

A convoy will probably follow the Mayflower, as it is regarded as too great a risk to have the president go to sea without assistance being in easy reach in case of accident.

BEGINS AN INFAMOUS RULE

Nicaragua Adopts Reconcentration Policy Under Which, for Years, Spain Governed Cuba.

Washington—The state department is informed that Nicaragua has begun the reconcentration policy which made Spanish rule in Cuba so infamous.

The department has the text of an order issued by Sebastiano Salinas of the department of Granada, which commands "all the inhabitants of the Mombacho ridge to assemble within twenty-four hours in Granada, without distinction of age or sex."

Persons not complying will be regarded as revolutionists and treated as such. That is, if General Salinas thinks fit he may shoot them or starve them into submission. The people of this ridge are anti-Madriz and they are to be crushed in the most barbarous manner.

Triple Tragedy in Chicago.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Manitowish—July 3 was Homecoming day in Manitowish. About 6,000 former residents of the county were here, including 300 members of the Manitowish County club of Chicago. On Monday the thousands who were in the city came to Two Rivers, six miles from here, the two cities holding the reunion in conjunction. Manitowish's former residents were guests of the sister city, as the result of some one conceiving the rather unique idea of holding a double homecoming. Horse races, a debate, concerts and other amusements made Sunday's program here a lively one. The town of Manitowish was the center of a vast gathering of the county's former residents. A splendid program of entertainment was carried out when the celebration was transferred to Two Rivers on Monday.

Grand Rapids, Wis.—Gov. James O. Davidson has approved the parole of Marvin Tenner, recommended by the state board of pardons.

Congressman A. W. Kopp delivered the principal address and the program included band music and singing by the Manitowish quartet.

Roswell—Forest fires sweeping upon this city from the west destroyed the sawmill and the house of the Roswell Lumber company of Manitowish and a large amount of lumber. The escape of about thirty residents is regarded as miraculous. Although the flames were headed for the dwellings, they turned sharply to the north as they reached the village. Again heading south, they wiped out the company's property. The loss is heavy.

Madison—The contract for the construction of the new biology laboratory at the University of Wisconsin has been awarded to T. C. McCarthy, Madison, by members of the executive committee of the board of regents. Mr. McCarthy's original bid, which was the lowest submitted, called for $201,000, but was revised to $193,000, after the regents had decided to eliminate some of the construction work.

Appleton—Appleton police have been asked to find Mrs. Joseph Bennett and three children who are supposed to be in this city, having disappeared. It is said, from their Oak-kosh home on June 14. Joseph Bennett notified the Appleton officers of the disappearance of his wife and three children, saying that he learned that all of them were in Appleton last Saturday and Sunday.

River Falls—C. W. Taylor, dairy farmer, was drowned while bathing at Glenmont, on Lake Cross. His wife was with him and he was rescued against a neighbor's bolts. The rods will be put on every part of the building, except the low offices where the president transacts his official business. Col. Spencer S. Colby, United States superintendent of public grounds and buildings, persuaded Mr. Taft that the White House ought to be equipped with the rods and executive approval was given. The cost will be between $500 and $600—Philadelphia North American.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS.

The expected has happened. A bill for old-age pensions has been introduced in the house of representatives. The introducer is William Baughman Wilson of Bloomington, Pa., former co-minor, former international secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, who now makes a living for his ten children on a farm, when he is not lucky enough to be drawing a representative's salary, says Brooklyn Eagle. The provisions of the bill give $120 a year to each man or woman over the age of sixty-five who has neither property worth $1,500 nor an income of over $240 a year. Entering into the bill is the expected of a modest wage. But Wilson's measure is too modest by half. This is a rich country. How can it expect a person over sixty-five years old to live comfortably on $120 a year? If the old-age pension in each case were fixed at, say $5,000 a year, more money would be put in circulation and anyone would have a motive for seeking longevity. Nobody would be silly enough to nurse their infirmities or to pursue industry any further than would be needed to keep life going till the age of sixty-five should be reached. For that matter, why not make the age forty? This is an era of humanitarian experimentation.

The mosquito season is at hand, and New Jersey, where the objectionable insect most abounds, is moving in the matter of destroying the pest. Bayonne is one of the towns in which energetic and organized action has been taken. Ditched sections are to be filled and, it is believed that by the methods employed millions of larvae will be killed and thus grave consequences will be averted. It has been shown that combined and systematic effort, including the most scientific means of lighting the oil, can be very effective, and New Jersey, which has been a great sufferer from the ravages of the mosquito, may add vastly to health and comfort by general war aimed at exterminating the mosquito.

Is Cuba to furnish the means of safeguarding the forests and producing paper at a moderate cost? It is announced from a Cuban island that experiments in manufacturing paper from sugarcane fiber have proved entirely successful, and that the product can be turned out at much less cost than from wood pulp. Of course the cane is what is left after the sugar has been extracted, and thus another by-product comes into play. It has also been asserted that American constabulary may be converted into paper. As there is practically an unlimited supply of such material, making good the assertion should be a very important step in conservation.

Crossing the English channel in an airship seems to have become almost a habit. Louis Bleriot led the way nearly a year ago and was followed by Jacques de Lesseps May 21 last. Both those aviators were Frenchmen, and they flew from France to England. Now Charles Stowart, an Englishman, has made the trip from England to France and back again without a stop, and therefore holds the record in this particular line of achievement. And he did the trick in a Wright aeroplane, so America gets at least part of the credit.

Dispatches from Seattle report an almost unprecedented rush to the gold fields of Alaska. This does not look as though there were general acceptance of that story that a Scranston alchemist has discovered a method of transmuting baser materials into gold and silver, which, if actually done, would inevitably minimize the value of the yellow and white metals. In short, the modern prospector or speculator has no use for the philosopher's stone, so eagerly sought by the ancients.

The movement for the devising of sanitary rules for all passenger trains and railroad stations is not aimed at the carrying operations, because it originated among them, and was suggested by Dr. W. A. Applegate, a chief of the Southern railway. The railroads have always been leaders in promoting the safety and comfort of the traveling public, and they will cooperate earnestly with the United States public health and marine hospital service in combating germ diseases.

How will coming generations get their physical exercise in outdoor recreation? The motorcycle has played hob with the bicycle, and the power boat has the sailing boat and the oarsmen on the run. A tiny motor now pushes the light Indian canoe over the shallow lakes and streams, and for the most part the paddle is too strenuous or too slow. Shall we next see the pedestrian tuck a motor in his pocket and get over the ground without the labor of moving his feet?

Down in Connecticut recently a woman died because a fortune had been left to her. People who are waiting for rich uncles to pass away will agree that her action was wholly unjustifiable.

A Virginia parson tells us that "life is a grand process of liquidation. He has his financial fargorn mixed up. Life makes us pay cent for cent."

BAN ON FIGHT FILMS

MOVEMENT AGAINST THEIR EXHIBITION IS NOW WORLD-WIDE.

MANY CITIES TAKE ACTION

Pictures of Battle Between Johnson and Jeffries Declared to Be Demoralizing and Likely to Cause Race Troubles.

New York.—A movement is on foot which promises to become world-wide in its scope, to prevent the exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight pictures. The United Societies of the Christian Endeavor, with 4,000 members, and the International Association of Police Chiefs are the leaders of the crusade. The Christian Endeavor society, through its Boston headquarters, telegraphed to the governors of every state in the Union Wednesday, asking that the pictures be barred on the ground that they reproduce an illegal act, and that their exhibition would be just as illegal as the actual fight. Secretary William Shaw declared that he had wired President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Lincoln, asking them to exercise their influence to prevent the pictures from being exhibited.

The American Vitagraph company, which owns the fight films, is believed to have spent $250,000 in purchasing the exclusive rights and in taking the pictures. Johnson was paid $65,000, while Jeffries got $50,000. Richard and Gleason each got one-sixth. In addition the moving picture concern spent a small fortune sending a score of expert operators to Reno and in other incidental expenses. The pictures are expected to take in $1,000,000 during the exhibition.

Among the larger cities that have already put the stamp of disapproval on the pictures are: Washington, Virginia (entire state), Fort Worth, Tex.; Baltimore, Boston, Lincoln, Neb.; Louisville, Lexington, Ky.; Cincinnati, Atlanta, Harrisburg, Pa.; Los Angeles, Savannah, and the whole state of Iowa.

In many southern cities the agitation against the fight pictures is increasing, due to the fact that a negro was the victor. The crusade has extended to the west. In Johannesburg, South Africa, the borough halls themselves have prohibited the pictures.

RECLAMATION ACT IS VALID

Appellate Court Hands Down Far-Reaching Decision Concerning Arid Lands.

San Francisco.—A far-reaching decision, directed against the $20,000,000 appropriation recently made by congress and the reclamation service, wherein the United States court of appeals sustains the circuit court of Idaho's contention that the reclamation act is constitutional, was rendered here Tuesday.

The decision establishes the right of the federal government to acquire by condemnation or otherwise lands and waters in the furtherance of any reclamation project.

The importance to the west lies in the fact that already the government has expended millions of dollars in the work of reclaiming the arid lands, and congress but a short time ago appropriated $20,000,000 for the work to be done this year.

The decision of the court of appeals also extends to the right of the government to take over any needed private water rights carrying out the provisions of the act.

This makes the irrigation projects of the west authorized by law and will permit a resumption of work in many sections without delay.

HAS PRAISE FOR POINDEXTER

CONGRESSMAN HAS CONFIDENCE WITH ROOSEVELT.

"Insurgent" Is Candidate for United States Senator From State of Washington.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—One of Colonel Roosevelt's important conferences was held with Representative Poindexter, an insurgent from the state of Washington.

It can be stated that Congressman Poindexter left Sagamore Hill with strong assurances that he will have the support of Colonel Roosevelt in his campaign fight for the United States senatorship.

Mr. Poindexter, after his visit with Colonel Roosevelt, said: "He is the same old president. The man I am going to work with. He is just the same as ever. He is a wonderful leader and he is still the leader. I am tremendously pleased with my talk with him. He must tell the details, if he wishes, of our conversation. Colonel Roosevelt and I and my associates have always worked together, and he assured me that we will continue to together."

Congressman Poindexter represents the district from which Secretary Ballinger comes.

In speaking of the visit of Mr. Poindexter, Mr. Roosevelt said: "Representative Poindexter and I went over together the political situation in the northwest. He assured me that he is in hearty sympathy with my conservation policies. Mr. Poindexter is a candidate for the position of United States senator and he is politically opposed to that wing of the party headed by Secretary Ballinger. Mr. Poindexter is a fine type of a man."

Washington.—Secretary Ballinger of the interior department, who returned to Washington from Beverly Wednesday, referred to a report from Oyster Bay that former President Roosevelt had espoused the cause of Representative Miles Poindexter as a candidate for the senate.

Mr. Roosevelt has been led astray by the deception of people who claim to be his friends. "He added that he had taken no active part in the politics of Washington for a long time and he denied that he considered Mr. Poindexter a Republican," he continued, "but a rank Socialist or, rather, if he is not one he will be one soon."

Beverly, Mass.—After a long conference with President Taft here Tuesday, Secretary Richard A. Ballinger of the interior department made the emphatic announcement that he will not resign from the cabinet, no matter what the verdict of the congressional investigating committee may be.

Secretary Ballinger announced that the policy toward public domain would retain the spirit of conservation, but would also encourage the privilege of development. When some one referred to it "and the Taft-Ballinger policy," he said: "You may call it what you like, but I will tell you one thing—it will follow the lines of the law."

Earlier in the day, before seeing Mr. Taft, Mr. Ballinger said that he "was not a quitter," but would not discuss a resignation. After his talk with the president, Mr. Ballinger announced positively that he would not quit.

HUGHES FOR CHIEF JUSTICE

Governor Will Probably Succeed Melville W. Fuller as Head of Supreme Court.

Washington.—With the death of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller and the probable retirement of Associate Justice William H. Moody of the Supreme court, President Taft will have two vacancies in the court to fill within the next few months.

It is generally believed that Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York, who has been confirmed as an associate justice, will be promoted to chief justice, and that Lloyd W. Bowers of Chicago, solicitor general of the department of justice, will be appointed justice in his place. The other alternative suggested is that Mr. Bowers be made chief justice, if having been understood here for some time that the president considered him qualified in all legal respects for the place. It is known, however, that President Taft has considered Governor Hughes also in this connection so far as his abilities are concerned.

In the event of the retirement of Associate Justice Moody it is believed there is a strong possibility that a Democrat will take his place. With the death of Chief Justice Fuller only two Democrats remain on the Supreme bench—Associate Justices White and Lurton.

Truth and Fiction.

At the Lands club one night were a number of literary men as dinner guests, when one gave attention to the bromeliad.

"After all, gentlemen, truth is stranger than fiction."

"Perhaps it is," said Wilton Lackaye, with a glance at an Indian novelist, "but not so successful. One never hears of its going into the tenth edition in six months."—New York Tribune.

An Advance.

Clerk (to head of firm)—I wish to ask you, sir, if you can kindly see your way to giving me an advance of wages? Head of Firm—Certainly, Mr. Phillips, with pleasure. Mr. Phillips (turning to the cashier, let Mr. Phillips have a sovereign on account of his salary and deduct it when you pay him on Saturday.—London Fun.

An Anxious Inquiry.

Spelled the Trick.

A New York official had gone through a political campaign, speaking of trickiness, said: "The tricky man usually winds up by being too tricky."—Lito Brown.

Brown, who lives in Fifth avenue, suspected his English butler of drinking his wine. So one night he drugged a couple of bottles of wine or five dollars Chateau d'Yquem and left them in the dining room.

"Unfortunately that night Brown's wife returned late from the opera. She saw the rare wine and had it put down in the wine cellar along with the twelve dozen other bottles of Chateau d'Yquem that Brown had laid in."

Brown is wondering to this day which two bottles are the drugged ones. He has stopped drinking Chateau d'Yquem. In fact, I understand his whole stock of it is for sale at a reasonable price.—Exchange.

Guests Carven for Themselves.

It was the custom in medieval times to serve roast meat on a spit, and to pass it round the table for each guest to cut off what he liked.

A Significant Hint.

If there were no birds man could not live on the earth, and birds are decreasing in this country.—Our Dumb Animals.

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY OF THE UNITED STATES.

According to the last year book of the Department of Agriculture, there are 21,720,000 milk cows in the United States, and these are worth $702,915,000.00. The magnitude of the industry can perhaps be best understood when it is considered that these cows produce yearly about $1,000,000,000.00 worth of dairy products.

There is no other branch of diversified agriculture so important to the progress of a community. The fertility of the soil can best be maintained by the liberal use of barnyard manure and the dairy herd not only makes this possible, but dairying is also more remunerative than other branches of farming when properly carried on.

Dairying has made wonderful progress since the advent of the modern creamery and the consumer of butter has not only been benefited by being furnished a more wholesome and palatable article of food, but the wife in the farm home has been relieved of the drudgery incident to making butter on the farm. When formerly the cream was ripened and churned into butter under conditions not conducive to fine quality in the finished product and in the majority of cases by unskilled hands, now the most of the milk or cream is delivered to a modern creamery where conditions are suited to the purpose of making butter, and the result has been a wonderful improvement in the quality of our dairy products. As the quality has improved consumption has increased and the progress of dairying has been remarkable during the past decade.

The perpetuity of the country's greatness depends upon increasing the production of farm products from year to year, a result which not only furnishes our people with food but maintains the prosperity of our farming communities. Increases in production can only come through improved methods of agriculture and soil improvement. When it is considered that the dairy cow is the foundation for soil improvement and farming prosperity, her importance is best understood, and interest in her should not be confined to her owner. She is an important factor in the development and prosperity of our country.

A Creepy Experience.

The Rev. Clarence Godfrey on retirement last night dreamed that he would try to "telepath" a phantom of himself to a lady living in another part of the city, tells H. Addington Bruce in Success Magazine. For about ten minutes he endeavored in thought to appear to her. At the end of that time he fell asleep.

About four hours later the lady on whom he had been "casting his will" awoke with an impression that she had heard a curious sound. She felt nervous and uneasy and thought that if she went downstairs and took a drink of soda water it might have a quieting effect.

Coming back, she was astounded to see the form of Mr. Godfrey standing on the staircase. He remained standing there for three or four seconds, while she stared at him in horrified amazement. Then as she approached the staircase he disappeared.

Right or Wrong?

Professed politicians who have reduced rebelling to an exact science and the independent voter a stumbling block, a fact which is amusingly disclosed by a story found in the life of the late George Monro Grant, the eminent Canadian educator and clergyman.

Toward the end of Sir John Macdonald's life he and Principal Grant, then the Queen's college, met at dinner at the house of the premier's brother-in-law, Professor Williamson.

"How I wish," the premier said to the principal, "that you would be a steady friend of mine."

"My dear Sir John," the principal replied, "I have always supported you when you were right."

The premier's eyes twinkled, and he laid his hand upon the shoulder of the principal.

"My dear man," said he, "I have no use for that species of friendship."

Spilled the Trick.

A New York official who had gone through a political campaign, speaking of trickiness, said: "The tricky man usually winds up by being too tricky, like Brown."

"Brown, who lives in Fifth avenue, suspected his English butler of drinking his liquor. He was enraged and dragged a couple of bottles of four or five dollar Chateau Xquem and left them in the dining room."

"Unfortunately that night Brown's wife returned late from the opera. She saw the rare wine and had put down in the wine cellar along with the twelve dozen other bottles of Chateau Xquem that Brown had laid in."

"Brown is wondering to this day which two bottles are the drugged ones. He has stopped drinking Chateau Xquem. In fact, I understand his whole stock is for sale at a reasonable price."—Exchange.
